KING AIR

At the Idaho Transportation Department Division of Aeronautics, we provide an affordable option for group business travel.

Increase personal productivity

The King Air provides a first-class flying experience on a budget. The aircraft is perfect for travel in and out of state – its speed makes for efficient travel time, and its size allows you to fly into cities or remote airports where larger planes cannot land. The comfortable pressurized cabin accommodates up to 10 passengers, with seating arrangements that can be adjusted for in-flight meetings or individual workstations.

King Air features

- Seating for up to 10 passengers
- Conduct business in flight
- Comfortable, pressurized cabin
- Space for 400 lbs. of cargo

Maximum flexibility at a minimum cost

Meeting scheduled on short notice? Need to get a group across the state for a one-day conference? Reserve with us. Flights are scheduled based on your schedule and the plane can be flexible when meetings run long. State planes are available 24 hours a day, including holidays and weekends.

King Air advantages

- Maximum scheduling flexibility
- A smart buy for group travel – significant time and cost savings over car travel (saves on hotel, meal and mileage expenses)
- Save time – bypass check-in lines and airport checkpoints
- Access to more than 40 airports around Idaho
- Ability to work in flight
- Free, secured parking

Time equals money

Save precious time and money when you fly the King Air. There's no need to arrive two hours in advance of a flight or wait in long lines – instead, arrive shortly before boarding and you'll soon be on your way. Overnight hotel stays and extra meal expenditures can be eliminated, and free, secured parking is available at the ITD hangar in Boise.

Compared to travel by car, the King Air offers significant cost savings for groups of three or more.

Our state-owned aircraft are available for state employee travel at a significant time and cost savings over car trips to the same destination.
