Is Your Truck Registered Correctly?

itd.idaho.gov/dmv

Do you need truck license plates?

This brochure will help you determine if truck plates are the correct choice for you.

Commercial Truck

This truck is used for business, compensation, profit, or for hire and has a gross combined weight of 8,001 pounds or more

Non-commercial Truck

This truck has a combined gross vehicle weight that does not exceed 60,000 pounds and is used for private purposes only. This truck is not used for the furtherance of a business or occupation for compensation or profit, or for transporting goods for other than the owner.

Farm Truck

This truck is owned by a farmer or rancher and used exclusively to transport the owner's unprocessed agricultural, dairy or livestock products to market or a place of storage.

If this vehicle is used exclusively by the owner or used in a reciprocal transaction with another party without profit, then a non-commercial plate is required.

If the vehicle is used by another party for profit, then a commercial plate is required.

Transient Farm Labor Seasonal Truck

This truck is owned by a transient worker and brought into Idaho temporarily to haul unprocessed agricultural products for hire.

Limited use Commercial Truck

This truck is brought to Idaho temporarily for commercial purposes and is not registered in Idaho.

5 Types of Trucks Require License Plates in Idaho

Truck Registration Basics

- All trucks 55,000-pound gross value weight or over must show proof of having paid the required Heavy Vehicle Use Tax before registering. For more information, contact the Idaho Transportation Department's Division of Motor Vehicles at 1-208-334-8661.
- Each county has its own mailing fee. There is an additional mailing fee of $3.82 when special plates are ordered or when plates are being remanufactured due to being seven years old.

Staggered versus non-staggered

Truck plates can be issued staggered or non-staggered. Staggered registrations extend to a full calendar year. The registration starts on the first day of a calendar month and ends on the last day of the same month one year later.

Staggered registrations are for trucks used year around. Individual truck registrations should be staggered.

Non-staggered registrations are based on a calendar year (January – December). Non-staggered registrations are for farm trucks or commercial trucks only used during the summer and fall.

Average weight of trucks

- ½ ton – 5,000 to 6,000 pounds
- ¾ ton – 6,000 to 7,000 pounds
- 1 ton – 7,000 to 8,000 pounds

Trucks are classified as a motor vehicle with a gross weight of 8,001 pounds or more and used to transport property.

Trucks can be categorized as commercial, non-commercial, farm, transient farm labor, or limited use commercial.

The weight is based on the combined weight of the truck, its content and the trailer and cargo being towed by the truck.
