

Idaho Aviation Association

BACKCOUNTRY ETIQUETTE AND STEWARDSHIP

BACK COUNTRY CONTRIBUTORS

Idaho Division of Aeronautics
AOPA/Air Safety Institute
Montana Pilots Association
Utah Back Country Pilots
Social Influencers – Trent Palmer
STOL Drag – Kevin Quinn
Canyon Flying
Recreational Aviation Foundation
Idaho Aviation Association

ETIQUETTE LEADS TO ACCESS AND LACK THERE OF LEADS TO PROHIBITIONS

ETIQUETTE

We enjoy the privilege and freedom of backcountry flying, and with it comes our responsibility to care for the environment, property, and community that make it possible. But we must also make every effort to create positive perceptions of general aviation backcountry flying by being safe and considerate.

ETIQUETTE

Air
Radio
Ground

ETIQUETTE

In the Air

- 1) Flight Groups – Size, Freq, Lead, Spacing
- 2) Altitude – Flights or Solo
- 3) Positioning
- 4) Attitude

ETIQUETTE

On the Radio

Positioning Report WWAD

- 1) Who
- 2) Where
- 3) Altitude
- 4) Direction

Blah Blah Blah

ETIQUETTE

On the Ground

ETIQUETTE

ETIQUETTE PROMOTES STEWARDSHIP

Being Stewards of the Land

- 1) Creates a healthy environment
- 2) Foster care of our resources
- 3) Minimally Impact physical locations
- 4) Invites peripheral behaviors

STEWARDSHIP

Areas of Impact

Remote Wilderness

Improved Campgrounds

Your Airport Community

STEWARDSHIP

Remote Wilderness

STEWARDSHIP LEADS US TO ACCESS

Marble Creek

Hoodoo Meadows

...and who knows what could be our next falcon to capture

STEWARDSHIP

IAA SUPPORTING MISSION

Help foster and manage the growth with proper land stewardship and community etiquette.

Educate pilots to be caretakers of our precious environment

Support the agencies that work hard to insure public access and protection

Bring understanding to General Aviation how important behaviors affect our access

Participate in local communities to support aviations contributions economically and socially

Be safe partners and participants while enjoying the back country wilderness.

IAA

Join now and support what matters
when it comes to aviation access in Idaho!

I WANT YOU